

Something to think about? ...

*Could it be that our fast paced lifestyle makes less time for interacting as a family?

*Could the use of tablets make it less likely that a Pre-school child will have less chance of reading books?

*Is it often just quicker to do things for our children instead?

*Could it be that we just seem to have less time to “just be” ... always rushing from here to there?

10 skills a child must have by the time they start school

To sit still and listen

To be aware of other children

To understand the word “no”

To understand the word “stop”

To be potty trained

To recognise their own name

To speak to an adult or ask for help

To be able to take off their coat and shoes

To talk in sentences

To open and enjoy a book

